

Micro Blocks

Micro blocks are small versions (1/8th the size) of normal Minecraft blocks. Most obtainable blocks in the game have an equivalent micro block. Some blocks with multiple states, such as redstone lamps, will have different micro blocks available for each state.

Micro blocks exist purely for decoration and are non-functional.

Obtaining

Micro blocks are available via trades offered by the wandering trader. They will have a random selection of 5-20 micro blocks at any one time. The trades will always offer 8 micro blocks for 1 emerald + a normal block. The wandering trader only keeps enough stock for a single trade of each block type.

Revision #8

Created 29 June 2020 17:11:11 by Tklots

Updated 22 October 2022 15:08:23 by Jim 1234